CITY ITEMS.

W Yesterday was "Gineral Trainin Dry" for these unfortunates who could not or would act fork up the seventy-five-cent excuse. There was a poor show, however ; only here and there a feriorn hope of half-a-dozen wretches who looked for all the world as if they were newly captured Mexicans wofully tattered by marching through chapparal. One squad, which seemed unusually start, consisted of ten men besides the officer. The later functionary had a rusty sword, and one of the deemvirs here a huge horse-pistol : these were the only weapons in the crowd. One wore a seedy white bat, one a shiny cap, one a Panama sadly dilapidated, and one a glossy Knox which gave him a world of uneasiness because of the rain. Nine of the ten were rather below the ordinary longitude, while the remaining whole one was nearly seven feet high. His tremendous altitude was the cause of much amnoyance to the fussy little officer, more so from the fact that he-the lofty one-owned the big pistol, and persisted in doing the musket exercise with it. Finally, to equalize the matter, the officer induced Mr. Lanky Towers to put his broad pedestals in the gutter while the short fellows ranged along the curb-stone, and so he managed to make things pretty nearly even The evolutions of this party were instructive; umbrellas and canes did excellent service, and at every "shoulder" up went the sun shades, and the dripping cane-bearers leaned up to the parasol-owners like invalid kittens towards warm building materials. Instead of music, a mistherious bey knocked a march out of a barrel-head, whe woful tengave their field exercises, and pegged to and fro at the word of command. At last the offier got the squad into proper trim and ordered a charge upon a coal-box immediately in front, but by a skillful evasion, the whole party filed to the left of the box, made a rapid detour around a soft-soan barrel and brought up at the counter in the rear of the poery, where the charge resulted in two-and-sixpure against the long fellow, with cigars on the offite. The remainder of the "trainin" was conducted atte same place and manner, and the worthy officer s probably ready to endorse the military science of becommend to the perfect satisfaction of Major Gueral Sandford, Commander of the First Division of the Mihtra of the State of New York. In the Park, assued of victims, more numerous and rather better exped, were almost mobbed by a crowd of boys heas supposed at first that the little urchins had quant some Bloomers, but they proved to be trainon In the upper part of the town, a considerable boly had been collected, where they passed for A new company of fantasticals, and their fancy conumes and burlesque arms were very gener. ally admired.-What a said falling off from the good old fashioned country "Trainin' Day," with its lucious accessories of new cider and gingerbread with the old soldier of the last war who did the mus-Attexercise with his feet, and the wonderful drum mer who would quaff his glass of tye while his drum-sticks were flying in the air and yet not lose a note of Yankee Doodle . with the clumsy calvalry entinel chasing some daring boy across the broad field, with the white-haired, brown-cheeked country ads stealing sly raps at the big base drum, or inflating, like the frog in the fable, at the opportunity of holding the cap'n's horse. Those were "Trainin' Days," bet the frightful and sickly burlesques got up in the City, like those of yesterday, ought to be made a peral offense; it is a personal indignity to the memory of the gray-headed heroes of the old regime, and it is no wonder that the boys feel disposed to mob the participants. It is a clear case of the preferees, and calls loudly for abatement. It is ablel within the meaning of the statute against de function, which says one citizen shall not hold another up to public edium or place him in a position

Council.-The principal doings of the Council last night were charging voting places and proming Inspectors of Election. Ald. Sturrevant fiered a resolution to proceed with the rebuilding Washington Market according to Peterson's plan he contract to be given to John B. Corlies. The resolution was laid on the table to be printed. The W. Tamoburgh Porries were overhauled, but no resuit was arrived at. The Assistants reorganized the VIII Ward Election Districts, appointed Inspec tors, &c. A special Committee was raised to report upon the property of removing all voting places from houses in which liquor is sold.

The New-Jersey Railroad Bridge over the Hackensuck is now so nearly completed that passengers, yesterday, walked across the river on the frame work, all but three spans being com-pletely raised, and the lower cords and timbers of the remaining carried entirely over. In two days the trains are expected to run regularly over the bridge that is by Wednesday, the 15th inst., just thirty hys since the fire. The creation of the bridge was commenced three days after the fire, that time being necessary for cleaning the burnt timbers and preparing for the work. Allowing for Sundays and interruptions by rain, the cars will probably run over the bridge in twenty-one working days after it was commenced, which is certainly rapid work for a strong structure of 1,100 feet in length, with a new draw and side section, and new abutment work on both sides of the river, (equaling fully one-third of the work of the entire bridge.) and the driving of ome two hundred piles from fifty to eighty feet in length, and the splicing, capping and bracing at least twice as many more, so as to make an exceedingly firm foundation for the support of the superstructure. The whole bridge is firmly rebuilt in the most approved style of How's Patent Suspension Truss Bridge, so satisfactorily used on the railroads in New-England, New-York and Pennsylvania. The strength of the bridge, about which no doubt is en. tertained, will be fully tested by passing over a number of heavy locomotives, exceeding largely the weight of any trains, before the cars with passengers are allowed to cross. By Wednesday, the 15th inst., it is quite probable that all the trains will run regularly over the bridges as heretofore. The Philadelphia and New-York lines leaving at 6 and 9 A.M., and 5 P.M., which have been detained from a quarter to half an hour, will then run between the two cities in about four hours.

WASHINGTON CROSSING THE DELAWARE. This great national picture, by our countryman Leutze which has been so highly praised by European critics, will positively be exhibited during the latter part of this month at the Stuyvesant Institute, No 59 Broadway. The delay in its exhibition is caused by its having been sent over without a frame.

SHIRT-SEWERS' COOPERATIVE UNION .-The business of this Union is located for the present at No. 9 Henry-st., (near Catharine-st.) up stairs, where all inquiries will be cheerfully answered and all orders for Shirts, &c., will be gladly received. It is hoped that a more central and accessible location will be speedily obtained.

Subscriptions to the preposed Loan (without interest) in aid of the contemplated extension of the Union's operations will be received by any member of the committee appointed at the Hope Chapel meeting. Letters, inclosing money or otherwise, may be addressed to E. Parmly, Treasurer, or W C. Russell, Secretary, No. 5 Nassan-st. The Comnittee, as increased up to this time, is as follows Rev. Charles Parker, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, Dr. Eleazar Parmly, Dr. John D. Russ, Horace Greelev, Benjamin J. Howland, Robert B. Mintura, Benjamin Ellis, John H. Swift, Marcus Spring, Haynes Lord, Richard H. Masning, John H. Keyser, William C. Rund.

NINETEENTH WARD .- We learn that the Charter Nominating Committee met last evening at the Umon Cottage, Broadway, between Forty-ninth and Fiftieth-sts., and unanimously nominated Wm. A. Dooley for merman, and Wm. B. Drake for Assistant Alderman, as the regular Democratic Whig nominces of the XIXth Ward.

SCHOONER CAPSIZED AND ONE MAN DROWNED .- The schooler Two Brothers, of about fifty tuns, of Elizabethport, Edward Riley, master, was capsized in a squall opposite Fort Lee, last evening, about 6 o'clock. There were three persons on board the Captain, Edward Riley, of New-York Charles H. Wilkinson, of Elizabethport and Robert Bourne, of the same place. The schooner had on board thirty-five tuns pig iron, taken on at Piermont. The vessel had been headed off by a sudden flaw, and the Captain went forward to assist in haul ing the jib to windward to pay her off, when she filled away, the squall struck her with great force, and having no headway she went over and sunk. Capt. Riley and Wilkinson seized some boards, by which they sustained themselves, but Bourne sunl with the vessel and was not seen afterwards. He was about fifty years of age, and has a wife in Elizabethtown The two others floated two miles down the river, and were, fortunately, heard crying for help by the pilot of the steamer Jenny Lind. Capt. Harris, rotwithstanding it was too dark to discern any object, promptly turned his boat about and rescued the mea from a watery grave. Great credit is due to

Capt Harris, as well as Mr. Carney, the pilot, and

Mr. St. Pierre, the engineer, for their humane conduct on this occasion. The two men saved were landed at Washington Hights and properly cared for by Mr. Harris, the proprietor of the J. L., who furnished them with food and dry clothes. Capt. Riley states that a sloop was directly ahead of him when he capsized, and he thought those on board saw the accident, but she kept on her way, paying no attention to them. This is the second vessel's crew rescued from death by the Jenny Lind. Three men and a boy were picked off a capsized schooner last Spring, the boy being dragged out through the cabin

NARROW ESCAPE.-A piece of timber fell vesterday from the new building, corner Chatham and Duane-sts., striking F. P. Bartlett upon the car and shoulder, tearing his collar and knocking him down. Had it fallen upon his head he would have been killed. It is supposed that proper care was not taken by the builders to secure this piece of NIBLO'S .- The great Gabriel Ravel takes a benefit to-night, and will appear in five speaking characters during the representation of the comic piece of the "Three Faced Frenchman." He will be assisted by Antoine, Mr. John Sefton, Mrs. Conover, &c. The Chinese pantomime of "Kimka," and the singular performance of the "Bedouin Arabs," will be added. Gabriel Ravel is the first mime of the age, and as such will be rewarded by a crowded saloon,

TEMPERANCE ADDRESS .- To the Sons of Temperance, to every Temperance Society of the City and County of New-York, and to all civil and religious societies, by whatever name designated, who have, as a basis of their institution, a pure morality to each Society respectively, and to each member particularly, the Executive Committee of the New-York Temperance Alliance invite your co-operation in the good work of forming Al. liances in your respective Wards, for the purpose-

First. Of enforcing existing laws against the violation of the Sabbath, by the sale of intoxicating Second. The removal of the polls, and the political meetings generally, from places where intoxicating drinks are sold. Third. The suppression of all illegal money contributions by candidates for office to promote their elections. Fourth. The enactment and execution of prohibitory laws against the sale of intoxicating liquors as a Fifth. The nomination and election to office of such men as shall be ascertained or known to be in favor of the accomplishment of these ends. Dear Brethren and Fellow Citizens, our Common Council, and some part of our Judiciary, have been too long under the influence of rowdyism. At our Primary Elections, there is no safety for peaceable citizens. The public papers have informed you that one of our most efficient Police Captains, during the last week, had his jaw broken. Another had his head badly bruised. A peaceable citizen had his eye knocked out, and the public peace was broken by a general riot. Arrests were made, but all the parties discharged. Shall we not have men elected to office who shall be a terror to evil-doers-men who will throw around our Policemen, and our noble Firemen, (who risk their lives in the preservation of our property and the peace of society,) the broad shield of the laws, or shall our Police force, the Firemen, and peaceable citizens, be at the mercy and under the control of men who owe their nomination and, of course their election to office, to such gangs of rowdies and hired builties as now prowl about the polls during the primary meetings ! No, gentlemen. All that is wanted is union of action among our best citizens, and this can be had by forming an Alliance in your Ward, or joining those already formed. Lay aside for the present your party preferences, and select from the nominees of both parties capable and honest men, or if this cannot be done, nominate an independent ticket. If you want a watchword, let it be, "Righteousness exaiteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." A party organized on this basis has not the element of failure in it.

Your obedient servant,

Othas, C. Leigh, Cor. See'y

of the New-York Temperance Alliance.

MISS BLACKWELL -We lately announced the establishment of this lady in our City as a practitioner of medicine, at No. 44 University-place. We are happy to learn that she meets with much encourage ment from our citizens, and is extremely successful in her practice. In a letter from Paris, dated Aug. 10, and published in The Opal of Oct. 1, we find the following allusion to her :

"There is a young physician at the Bicetre and Salpetriere, aiternately, who has been very successful in the relief of insanity in delicate and accom-plished ladies, and he bids me urge upon you and Miss Delia Dix, the importance of creeting an 'Asy-lum for Ladies,' and appropriate the property of t lum for Ladies, and appointing Elizabeth Blackwell

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY .- For many years past persons of all classes have been engaged in attempting to get or make an article that would entirely supersede the use of common Glue and its annovance in the melting and using the same. This notice is published to apprize the public that we have attained the desired object 'so long'sought for, and offer the following outline of our Patent Liquid

1st. This article being in a liquid state requires no trouble or preparation, and always ready for use. 2d. No fire is wanted, it is free from smell, will keep liquid in any climate.

3d. It is quite impervious to heat or water. 4th. It will cement iron, stone, wood, glass, china, or any metallic or mineral substance. As a paste or gum it stands unequaled. 5th. Having these many advantages, it costs 20 per cent less than common glue.

Carpenters, Brush-makers, Bookbinders, Cabinet makers, and all parties using glue will find this a great article. Town and country storekeepers would greatly increase their trade by introducing this valu able article. Carriage paid on all samples to any part of the United States. Sold in bottles 124, 184, 25, 50 cents.

ARRESTS FOR GRAND LARCENY .- Capt. Crow, of the Tweifth Ward Police, vesterday arrest-ed a German named John Conrad dias Conrad Frick-er, charged with stealing a trunk containing clothing er, charged with stealing a trunk containing ciothing and a silver watch, valued in all at $100, the property of Mr. Adolph Hopstock, a resident of Mott Haven, who, at the time of the larceny, was in the act of taking the cars at Harlem, for this City. The accused was held by Justice McGrath, for examination.

AN INFANT ACCIDENTALLY HANGED .-The infant child of Mrs. Susan Dean, residing at No. 324 Spring-st., was found by its mother, yesterday afternoon, hanging by the neck and dead. It apafternoon, hanging by the neck and dead. It appears that she had placed it in bed, and while engaged in another room it had rolled off the side of the bed and was caught by its neck between two posts projecting above and attached to a cradle which was standing near. The Coroner was notified to hold an inquest on the body.

Supreme Court-General Term .- Case of Carnal - The motion to quash the writ of error granted by Juege Harris, and to vacate the stay of proceeding, having been set down for yesterday, the prisoner, (who stands convicted, it will be recolled ed, for the murder in Dey-st) was brought up, agre ec. for the murder in Dey-st) was brought up, agreeably to law, to be present. Messis. A. I. Jordan, H. F. Clark and H. I. Chitton, appeared on his sehalf, and the District Autorney, Mr. Blunt, in support of the motion. We also observed flew Mr. Verren, pastor French Episcopai church, who has interested himself for Carnal, in the Court-building. Mr. Blunt having mach the motion, a pre-liminary objection was taken by Mr. Jordan, who contended that the power of the District Att they only extended to cases in the Court of Sessions and the Court of Oyer and Terminer, and that in reference to the Supreme Court the Attorney General of the Sale only has power to att- and that no motion having been made by the Attorney General in this case, the present motion neuts the dismessed. INGENIOUS ESCAPE.—The police on Saturday night restricted Thomas Andrews a how electry years of age, who was committed to the Tombs for some petty offense about a month ago, and escaped in a very ingenious mainer. There are a number of battels placed in the varie of the Chyprison for the reception of swill. When these are filled, the lids are closed, and they are carted away to the place of deposit in the upper part of the City. Ancrews, noticing that one of the narrels was not omit full, jumped into it unobserved, and closed the ind. Thus submerged to his throat in the offensive liquid, he patiently awaited the carman, who shortly arrived, and, taking the supposed full barrel on his cart, carried it off. When he stopped to unload, Ancrews sprang out, and the carman was so paralyzed with astonishment that he could offer no impediment to the young rogue's fight. So much fortitude and ingenuity in such a lad are truly wonderful. INCENTOUS ESCAPE. - The police on Satingenuity in such a lad are truly wonderful.

The Court ordered the discharge of Jaudon and Cryder and forfeited the recognizance of Mr. Flanders, the witness for the people.

eminimation of the trial of Antoine Milletti, charged with Kope—The trial of this individual, indicted for rape on the person of Sarah Ann Stewart, a little girl e years of age, was continued. The testimony was, this morning, concluded, and the Jury after a protracted absence, returned a verdict of guilty of an assault with intent to commit a rape. Counsel for the prisoner asked for a delay of sentence for a day or two, in order to give time to prepare some points upon which to ask for an arrest of Judgment. This motion was granted, and the prisoner was remanded to prison.

Trial for Petit Larceny, accord offense.—James Hogan, an old thicf, was tried for the commission of a petit larceny; second offense. The former conviction was clearly proven and evidence was adduced showing that the prisoner stole a coat worth $3 a few days since. The Jury were unanimous as to their veroict of guilty as to the last theft, but one of their number refused to find the prisoner guilty of the second offense. The Jury were therefore discharged as not agreeing, and Hogan will probably be put on trial again. Adjourned.

Oregon.

We take the following from The Milwaukee (Wis.) Sentinel:

POBILAND, Oregon, Aug. 10, 1851.

Messas. Editors: Perhaps a few lines from a former subscriber and resident of Wisconsin nay not be unacceptable to your readers. The first question that I would probably be asked would be. Do you like Oregon better than Wisconsin? This would be a difficult question tor me to answer, prejudiced as I am in favor of the latter. It is hard to compare two regions of country so totally different in almost every respect. But, if I were asked in which country a farmer or mechanic could live the easiest and make the most money, I should, without hesitation, say Oregon.

From what I had heard at home, I expected to

From what I had heard at home, I expected to find a country of unsurpassed fertility. In this respect I can assure your readers they would be disappointed. I do not think that any portion of America could compare with Wisconsin and Illinois in that respect; but we have here other advantages that far overbalance that. This is undeniably proved by the wonderful prosperity of the farmers generally, and indeed of all classes of men who are commonly industrious.

The great advantage the Oregon farmer has is the long Summer and the short and mild Winter. In Wisconsin the farmer is busy nearly the whole summer in preparing for the long and severe cold season. Here the cold season is so mild and short that but little such preparation is neces-sary. In the Upper Willamette Valley the grass continues green the whole year round. temarkably fattening quality. This makes Ore gen the greatest stock-raising country in the world, and, with the whole Pacific coast for a market, it is incomparable. Oregon Butter and Cheese has already a name which it well de

In regard to grain-growing, I will mention one fact that will sound strange to Wisconsin farmers. At the time when the gold was first discovered, farms, stores and work-shops were nearly totally deserted; all rushed for the mines. The dry summer weather at length coming on, and water becoming too scarce, they returned home to harvest the crops of wheat that were sown the preceding season. Of course they would not plow and sow again, as they knew they could return to the rich diggings with the commencement of the rains. The wet season came on and to the mines they went, returning home as before in the summer. They then found, as before, a in the summer. fair crop ready for the harvest, growing from the waste of the year before, without one stroke of labor having been applied. This was repeated last season, making three crops from the same ground with but one planting. This, I can assure ground with but one planting. This, I can assure your readers, is the fact, and shows how little abor is required in Oregon for the sustenance of life. A variety of soil and timber is offered to the choice of the emigrant; those that prefer the woodland can have it to their hearts' content. see from my desk, at this moment, thousands straight, tail pines and firs full 200 feet high, with scarcely a branch.

To me the openings and prairies are the most inviting. Many of the prairies contain but a few hundred acres, and are entirely surrounded by the forest; others are much larger, but always interspersed with groves of trees and water courses. In fact, I look upon them as a perfect farmers' paradise. Above all their other advan-tages, I look upon their perfect healthfulness as JNO. M. BRECK the greatest of all.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.—BARBARISM.—O. Saturday week, in Baileyville, John Palmer and Samuel Cochran attempted the murder of a boy named Martin Magoun, under the following circum-Trial again. Adjourned.

ARREST OF FUGITIVE BURGLARS.—The clothing-store of Scafer & Whitney, at Newark. N. J. was broken into on Saturday night and robbed of a large amount of clothing, with which the hard. but Cochran took it, put on a new cap, and fired, a large ball passing through the leg of the boy and wounding him severely. The men were arrested and lodged in the Calais jail to be tried in July next.
